Deliverance Newsletter

In this issue:

- Inner Healing
- How is Inner healing part of deliverance. Ministry
- Who needs inner Healing?
- How many times do you need it?
- What my wife learned

When you come to Jesus Christ, you are set free. You overcome the world and are no longer part of it. Jesus is the ultimate truth encounter and he breaks every lie, every chain, and through his blood that you are covered with, you get eternal life, divine protection, supernatural healing, abundant life on the earth, salvation, forgiveness of sin, deliverance and so much more. The blood is enough to cover anything you have possibly done before coming to Jesus and Jesus Christ is for everyone, no matter your situation.

The purpose of this newsletter is to provide information on Deliverance Ministry, deliverance and are interested in engaging in the great

This newsletter will also give information on messages, tips and teachings from God Makes All Things Possible Ministries that is available on our discord ministry server and ministry website. All information is freely given.

Questions to think about:

- * What do you want from all of this (God). Why are you in the kingdom?
- * How has your life changed since accepting Jesus as your Lord and Savior?

“Who the son sets free is free indeed”

I hope you enjoy this newsletter.

Thank you for reading and God be with you.

Quick Hits

The Holy Spirit does not Fast: - When doing deliverance or anything where Holy Spirit works through you, you are just showing up and being used, how much you can bench press or whatever great thing you did to prepare does not truly matter. Fasting is to edify your inner person, to get a break through in your life, families life, achieve a goal, break a stronghold, get closer to God, etc. Holy Spirit runs the show for deliverance. From day one, you are ready to be used by Holy Spirit.

Knowing your authority and where it comes from: - Your authority as a born again believer comes from being a born again believer in Jesus Christ.

- Authority is not earned, it is not the product of going to school, getting a degree in some religious study, or imparted on you by another believer. It was given to you by Jesus Christ. God gave Jesus all authority on heaven and earth. Jesus gave it to his disciples. They were to make disciples of all nations. There is power and authority in the name of Jesus as it is through Jesus that we are able to excerpt authority. We have the Holy Spirit in us and Jesus had the same Holy Spirit with him. Jesus is the same, yesterday, today and forever.
- As born again believers, we are ambassadors of Jesus Christ and his ministry. Do not kid yourself, there is only one ministry and that ministry is the one Jesus built as he is the rock, the foundation that the church is built on. He is the church. When you go out there and start a ministry or are a part of someone else's, you are just at a satellite or running a satellite of the ministry of Jesus Christ. My ministry if God makes all things possible (and he does) but that is just what I name the satellite of Jesus Ministry as I am just continuing his work, his message, his ministry as we are all called to do. It is his word we preach, his good news we spread. Through accepting him as our Lord and Savior, we are as believers to follow the commands of Jesus from the great commission to how to live our lives daily. Will we stumble some yes, we all do but we can do all things through Jesus Christ who strengthens us.

INNER HEALING

Inner Healing is a crucial part of deliverance ministry. It should not be overlooked

I can kick out every demon, break every curse, remove all infirmities from you in Jesus name. Deliverance is like kicking unwanted guests out of your house who have trashed it, destroyed things in it, whispered lies to you and other things that are not cool at all. Once the demons are kicked out, curses are broken and such, you then have to work on repairing what damage was done and removing what caused them to get in and others to come back and take their place.

Inner healing works to address those soul wounds that you either got through a generational curse or from something that happened in the womb and forward from that. It can come from a lie you heard, something you believe about yourself, something you read or something that happened earlier in your life that you don't remember. These wounds are hidden, either with a split in your personality, a protector (which can be a demon or just the part of you that got fragmented and keeps the memories of what happened to you from you. If it is a demon or a part of your soul (Protector), it has to be dealt with.

The protector that is part of you, needs to be restitched together and merged with you. If it is a demon, it needs to get the boot in Jesus name, but the wound had to be healed in order to get the demon to go to the feet of Jesus Christ.

Katie Souza who we listen to as one source of inner healing says 90 percent of people have legion, he is a regional spirit as well. You find that out in Matthew when Jesus sends him into the pigs. She also talks about soul wounds, as do others and what we are hearing from the Holy Spirit, we being (my wife and I), there is so much that happens to us that needs to be healed, especially if someone has wounds that allow demons in, even if the person does not realize it.

Sometimes, when you are in deliverance, working on removing the demon, it won't go and that can be mostly because (short of a legal right) it is actually part of the person, the protector coming up. If it is the person, then that wound needs to be dealt with, same if a demon is protecting it for its own evil use.

You then have to get rid of offense, bitterness, unforgiveness, anger or anything else you might have from things that have happened to you during your life, when you were in the womb or that happened to your ancestors that you don't know about. The great thing is Jesus is the answer.

Becky Dvorak is also a healing evangelist I would recommend. She, along with Katie, talk about the dunamis power of the Holy Spirit. This is the power that Comes on us when we are baptized in the Holy Spirit. We all as believers get it and have the light of Jesus Christ in us. As Jesus said, he is the light. We can command the dunamis power of the Holy Spirit in us to heal us,

Inner healing also deal with things you know about that have not been addressed. Burdens, yokes, word curses you have put on yourself or others have. Not being good enough and especially comparison to anyone else is a wound that need to be healed. This stops you from knowing your true identity in Jesus Christ. Jesus is the one who defines your identity, not the world or anyone in it. Not even your church in a lot of cases defines you.

You were wonderfully made and Jesus loves you and will show you that it is ok that there is no one like you or that you are not like anyone else as no one was made to be like you. You will care less what others are doing and keep your eyes on Jesus and what he wants you to do. Will you stumble some, of course, we all do, we all fall short, even if it is once every year and that is why we need Jesus Christ daily but once you know who you are, no one can lie to you, hurt you, define you, as you know who you are, you know your identity. For those not with Jesus yet and those who are but maybe don't think he is for them or that he will accept you. Let me say this:

It does not matter what you did, what lifestyle you are living now, at one time, we were all sinning and separated from God. Whatever you are doing, however you are living, it doesn't matter at all, I Break that lie off everyone reading this in Jesus name. Jesus is for everyone at anytime, come as you are to him and he will show you your true identity. Sin is sin and we all at one time, were living in it, in the world. No one is better than anyone else because they did a sin that is not so bad per society or even the church.

Sin is disobedience, all sin is the same except blasphemy against the Holy Spirit. So you are living an adulterous life style, same sex lifestyle, lying, stealing, addiction to drugs or whatever, hurting people, staying angry at them, have unforgiveness, living with your partner before you are married, forget who the two people are, all sexual sin outside of marriage as defined by God in the bible as between a man and a women is sin.

So if you hooking up with your girl or guy and not married to them, you are sinning just as much as two girls or two guys or people that do other things, pornography, incest, kill someone, fraud someone. It doesn't matter, we need to stop trying to put one sin above another and expecting people to just drop everything when they come to Jesus for a try. It might take them some times to drop certain things and discover who they are and that is ok and it doesn't matter what you did, your brothers and sisters who are waiting to welcome you into the kingdom are no better, even if they have 1000,00 followers or are popular, have ministries. Anything that rebels against God is sin and we all need to repent and get right with God and it is so simple. ( I repented a few minutes ago because I had a thought that was not of God) You just call out to him and give him a chance, a true one, be all in, you have nothing to loose and see what happens. You will be surprised as he shows you who you truly are and you walk with him. God is good. Get healed!!

Importance of healing the soul and through that healing, Everyone needs it to a degree

The soul can get wounded. A lie someone told you, can make you believe your life needs to go in a certain direction or some word curse someone said about you or that you believe about yourself can cause a wound in your soul. The wounds can bring in bitterness, rejection, unforgiveness, anger, depression and a host of other things. In some cases, the protector of those wounds is a demon that does not want you to remember them, get to the bottom of them and have them exposed and taken care of.

They use it to hurt you and allow you to be harassed by demons, even after a deliverance. You might be clear of demons and healed of a lot and even everything after deliverance as lies are exposed during it so the ultimate truth encounter, which is Jesus Christ can be realized by you. Why did that demon get in? Why does the witchcraft affect you so much, even after you are delivered? It is because your soul is wounded and that wound allows for the enemy to strike you through that wound. It can be a generational wound, one you got as a baby or even mid life. A demon can attach to that wound and even though you are delivered and as long as you have a relationship with Jesus Christ, you are going to heaven, whether you slide in through the backdoor (just enough) or you walk right in through the front door.

While you are on earth though, it gives the demons the right to torment you and if you harbor unforgiveness, anger, bitterness, offense in your heart, you can get sick and lots of things fall upon you. Is it fair, no but the enemy is not fair and God warns us about this in the scripture what unforgiveness brings but there is always an option, the only option Jesus Christ, he can take care of all of the issues you have. When you come to him, you are healed by his stripes. That again doesn't mean if you have been mad at an ex for years and thought you forgave him but bring him up or the situation up, you have not forgiven him nor let go to the hurt.

> This next part might seem like "What is he talking about, no I am not going to forgive them" The decision to forgive is between you and God but it is clear from the bible, what not forgiving does:

Matthew 6:14-15 NIV

<sup>14</sup> For if you forgive other people when they sin against you, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. <sup>15</sup> But if you do not forgive others their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins.

No matter what people do to us, even though some of it is unfair, horrible, illegal and other things, we have to forgive them, (not for them, maybe they change and repent, maybe they don't and end up in hell, but you don't need to possibly end up in hell or have a life where you are kept from everything God has for you because of them. If we want to experience everything God has -and God knows it might take some time so do not think that he does not care or does not understand, he does) as God forgave us, we have to forgive others. How that looks and what that looks like to you is your decision

This goes back to what I said earlier. In the world, crimes or sins are escalated, some above others and when you do a crime, there is punishment for it on earth, in the kingdom though, sin is sin and everyone who was away from God, not following Jesus and living in the world was just as lost as those who do bad things. It does not make what they did right nor do you have to trust them or send them cards, it just means you release yourself from the unforgiveness, bitterness, anger, hurt, depression, shame, guilt and then you can be healed of the wounds. A protector "Demon" in this case, wants to hide those from you, help you not remember them so it can use them to mess with you. That in itself is not fair or cool but that is the reality of the world we live in for a time that is controlled by satan.

When you forgive someone, you are not saying what they did is ok. Not at all, even if they got away with whatever, they will have to answer when they die if not in the world through the justice system. God will fight your battles for you, you let go of the yoke you put on yourself. You forgive them and bless them, give them thanksgiving as Paul talks about. Blessing and forgiving your enemies. Jesus talks about it as well. You can choose not to forgive but I pray you choose to forgive, so the wounds can be healed and no one ends up in hell.

How do we do this, through Jesus Christ. He can help heal you from the ground up and you can do all things through him. Is it easily, no. Will it happen fast, maybe, it just depends on what level of healing you need. Demons are easily dealt with when a legal right is broken, curses and generational ones as well. Wounds can be healed through just deliverance but there are sometimes where something does show or doesn't go no matter what. That is a whole different level. The Holy Spirit we have enables us with the dunamis power to heal those wounds once they are exposed. Once they are healed, the protector "Demon" has to go to the feet of Jesus Christ, there are no legal rights for it.

The other wound that causes a protector is the soul wound, where you fracture, a part of you forms a personality to hide what happened to you when you were younger or years before. Trauma causes this a lot. When you have a protector come up during deliverance, if it is not a demon, it is part of your soul and you can't send that to the feet of Jesus Christ or do the abyss. It is a part that comes into existence to shield you from something that happened that caused a break or something you just were not able to handle or wanted to go away. Whatever the event is. It could cause you to act different sometimes and even go from a grown man or women to reactions of a little girl or boy.

It also could be a demon playing tricks on you and messing with you but there are protectors that are caused to exist through the mind helping a trauma not be remembered or an event to not be remem-

How many times should you go through it?

* Until you are healed of every wound and free of the control of the world as once all wounds are healed, you have nothing in common with the world at all. Jesus had nothing in common with the demons he dealt with. When legion came, legion asked what did Jesus want with him, there was nothing on Jesus that was in common with legion. We offer help with inner healing on our discord ministry server "God makes all things possible." and he does. We have videos, teachings and also share book readings on the inner healing and other subjects. We would love to be used by God to help if you choose to come on or if you are already one, come to the events and classes. If not with us, please get it somewhere. Youtube has a lot of videos, there are plenty of books and teachings and we are happy to point you in that direction as well if you ask us. God be with you all.

What my wife learned

- While I knew about soul wounds and the need for healing after and even before and during deliverance, to expose any lies, the level I know about it now and I am thankful I know, is due to what my wife has overcome. We had to pray, ask questions and seek to get answers. Protectors and other soul wounds we have learned about and that she has been healed from has opened my eyes even more to deeper levels of deliverance and healing through Jesus Christ. There are so many levels to inner healing as well as deliverance.
- It also shows just how horrible Satan is and how much is thrown at us from before we are born till now in order to stop us from our destiny God has for us, Define us instead of letting Jesus show us who we truly are. If Satan can confuse you, keep you from your identity in Jesus, then your anointing, prayer life, everything is affected. How can you know your authority if you don't know whose you are (you belong to God). How can you walk in your anointing if you are questioning your identity, how can you grow, How can you get healed if you don't know who you are?
- If you don't know you can release the dynamic power of the Holy Spirit in you to heal your soul and your body or that by his stripes we are healed so you just reach out and touch the cloak of Jesus and get the healing that is already yours. Jesus already purchased it. It is a done deal. As children of God, we should be living in great health and a full life and enjoying that full life when we are a lot older with no issues. If we are not, then something needs to be addressed and healing the wounds in your soul can take care of most of that, you can get full deliverance with inner healing but you can also get deliverance and inner healing and be totally free as well.
- Sometimes you just need deliverance, sometimes you just need inner healing and sometimes you need both. We all have some hurt that needs to be addressed that hurt us in our soul, are mind, etc. Some have more than one. That hurt, that wound gives us something in common with legion as an example and the world. As that wound causes us to think differently then we should be and that thought process and even actions because of it, give us something in common with the world to where demons and curses and other things can land. God does not want that for you, for anyone. It is time to live a full life healed in your soul and body.
- God lays it out and it is up to you to accept it or not. He won't force you to accept that or accept Jesus but God has no skin in the game to push you any way but through love as God is love. Who he made you to be, your identity in him is for you to have a long, healthy life on the earth, doing his work and enjoying what he has for you and he is a loving God, a good God that wants to give us everything we need. He will take care of us, provide for us and protect us. Psalms 23 and 91 are good examples of this. You will find your true identity in Jesus Christ.
- Even if you are totally different when you come to him as he takes you as you are, when you start the journey, as long as you are open to him, he will change you from the inside, break all the lies of the world of who you are and what you were told you are and who you would be and show you who you truly are. A son or daughter of the most high, treasured, precious, loved and that you are not a mistake as God does not make those. You matter,

In closing, I plead with those who are reading this and who do not know Jesus, come to him. Give him a chance. What do you have to lose? If it doesn't work out after you give it 100 percent change for a while, nothing stops you from going back to the way you were before you gave Jesus a try but I believe you will not want to come back as that is the power of Jesus. If someone down the street said Jesus is not for you or doesn't care about you, ignore them, they do not know Jesus. If your lifestyle has been said is against Jesus, even if it is someone from a church or online that said it. Who cares what they say, Jesus is for everyone and those people who try to discourage you are not Jesus. Give him a try. You love how your life is, whatever relationship you are in that is outside of marriage between a man and a woman. This included guys and girls living together. You like it and don't want to give it up for Jesus, Repent and give it up anyway as if you die tomorrow and you are not right with God, that relationship or whatever you are in won't matter as you will find yourself in hell. The temporary pleasure of waking up beside that person won't compare to waking up in hell surrounded by so many others who did not repent and wanted the temporary pleasures. As born again believers, you either go to heaven or hell when you die. That is what it written and what we believe (If you don't believe in hell or heaven or Jesus, Be curious and see if you don't realize that you are wrong, Try Jesus, he won't ever fail you. God be with you all
